Foreword

As we are graduated and leave Fairfax Hall, we realize that never again will all of us be together in one place. The staff of the 1952 CHAIN AND ANCHORS hopes that this yearbook, with its stories and pictures, will bring each of us back to Fairfax and to everyone here in some of our fondest memories.

Dedication

PATIENT and understanding, Miss Marks has never been too busy to make our problems her own. We will always remember how her help and guidance made our days at Fairfax some of our happiest. We, the staff of the 1952 edition of CHAIN AND ANCHORS, offer our sincere love and best wishes to Miss Swann Marks, to whom we dedicate this book.

To her daughters who live in every country
Fairfax Hall sends out her call:
There are links that bind us together,
That bind us together one and all.

Clang! Clang! Upon the anvil
On our Fairfax campus,
Welding the links of friendship
In the Fairfax Chain of Years.
Clang! Clang! Ever we'll hold dear
These links that bind us,
These links that bind us
Together one and all.

Last Will and Testament of the
COLLEGE SENIOR CLASS

÷ ÷ ÷

The College Senior Class, being of sound mind, does hereby leave the following—this 7th day of June:

1. To Miss Wilmore we leave our end of the hall—without an ash.

2. To Miss Strother we leave the memories of our numerous week ends at the University of Virginia and hope that she will keep them among her most cherished possessions.

3. To Mr. Nash we leave the incoming Senior Class and their Ring Figure.

4. To "Dad" Gates we leave our children, which are to come, and hope that they will enjoy their years here as much as we have.

5. To Miss Marks we leave our appreciation for being so helpful and patient with us through the year.

6. The rest of the staff and faculty we leave—but not without saying good-bye and best wishes to all in the future.

7. I, Nan Barnes, do hereby will and bequeath my tap dancing ability to Margaret Lane, so that she may entertain the Senior Class of '53 as I have the class of '52.

8. I, Ruth Edmundson, do hereby will and bequeath, out of kindness, to Joan Luckett my love for the Chi Phi House and those Toms at U. Va.

9. I, Diane Fereday, leave to Pat Seidenglanz the colorful name plate behind my bed and all the other numerous doodlings throughout the Senior Dorm titled "Bill."

10. I, Vay Jones, leave to B. J. Lamm and Anne Mason the thousand-leg in room 21 and hope that if he is injured in any way, they will nurse him back to health.

11. I, D. Ann Lohr, bequeath my champion hunter, Boots, to Elma Roodschild.

12. I, Beth Midyette, being a little weary of mind after six years, leave Fairfax!

13. I, Dottie Sensabaugh, do hereby leave my ability to marry the "man I love" to any junior who is lucky enough to do the same.

14. I, Rachel Sharpe, do hereby will and bequeath those handsome and masculine town boys to Marcie Swartz—hoping she will have better luck than I.

15. I, Ann Speck, leave my luck at V. P. I. to Dorcas Ann Via—knowing she will have the same.

16. I, Paddy Steinbrecher, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to meet "the man I love" on a blind date to Anne Mason and hope she will be able to meet someone just as wonderful.

17. I, Jane Suthon, do hereby will and bequeath my ability to keep Senior Dorm quiet and in order to Ruth Shirley and hope that she will honor her position and do her job well.

18. I, Kay Valentine, leave to Nancy Wiand the Theta Chi House at U. Va. in hopes that she will have as wonderful a time there as I have had this year.

19. I, Irma Woodard, to Betsy Clark, leave my ability to go home every week end and hope she will not abuse this privilege.

20. I, Gren Yount, leave to Nancy Wiand the job of "postmaster" and hope she will not have as many complaints as I; and to my sister, Mary Anne, I leave many wonderful times at Fairfax.

Prophecy of the

Today, June 7, 1962, as roving reporter for the Faxette, I am just about to set out on a trip across the nation to collect news about the Class of 1952, as we have neither heard of nor from them since their graduation.

Our jet plane is now leaving the huge new air base at Basic City. This giant base is owned and managed by General and Mrs. Glenn Sensabaugh. (Mrs. Sensabaugh is the former Dottie Roberts.)

As we prepare to take off, we see the Fairfax Hall station wagon zoom past driven by Miss Ann Speck, the beloved Speech teacher at her old Alma Mater.

Our first stop is just over the mountain. We see Kay Valentine, who is now a sedate matron residing on Carr's Hill where she is Theta Chi housemother.

Before leaving the beautiful state of Virginia, we will stop in on the thriving metropolis of Galax. Here we see Miss Paddy Steinbrecher in her new job for the City Department of Sanitation. She works under a former acquaintance who is head garbage collector.

Next we stop in North Carolina, where we see Miss Nan Barnes, who is teaching at her tap dancing school for tiny tots. Have these footsteps changed your mind about having little ones of your own around the house yet, Nan?

We go further on in North Carolina where we see the former Beth Midyette, who now has her MRS. She holds an executive position with the Highway Department. Her present project is straightening out the road from Bath to Chocowinity.

While still in North Carolina, we drop in on the former Ruth Edmundson, who is now Governor of North Carolina. She was elected because of her campaign slogan, "Save your Confederate Money, Boys, the South Will Rise Again." As a sideline, she is perfecting a freckle remover to use at home on her children.

We now go to Brooklyn, New York, where we see Irma Woodard's name appearing on a large poster. Is she running for another office? No. She is wanted throughout the state on a gambling charge of bookie business.

While in New York, we attended the opening of the Barnum and Bailey Circus. We were not surprised to see one of the Class of 1952 in their company. She was Jane "Muscles" Suthon, the Champion Weight Lifter. That Hadacol really did the trick, didn't it, Jane?

We now go to Hollywood where they are shooting one in a series of Western serials entitled, "I Say, Son, Who Put That Cactus in My Saddle?" starring "Jogalong" Jones and "Lopealong" Lohr.

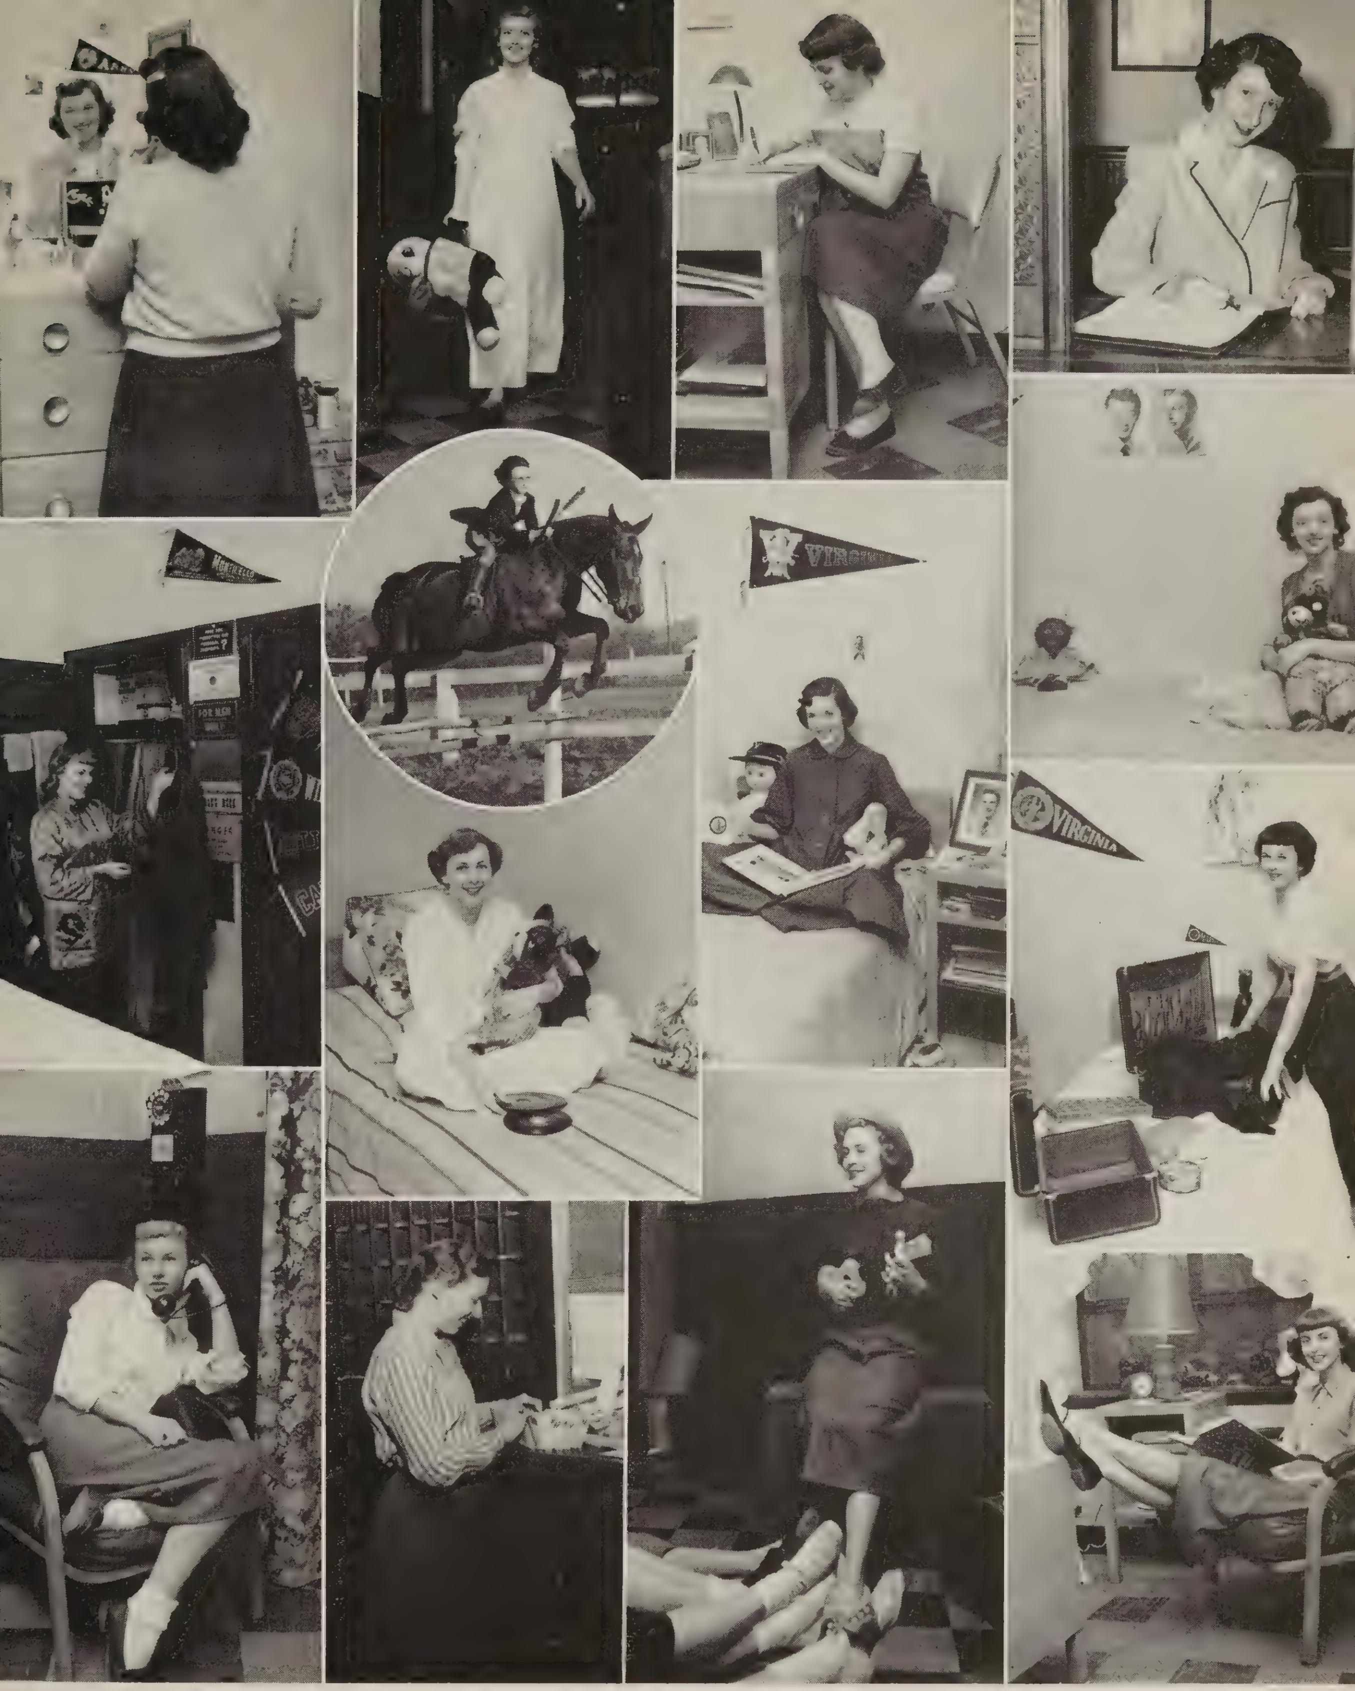
Although we haven't been able to locate Rae Sharpe, we hear that she is Captain of a coffee boat that runs from Pennsylvania to Brazil.

As we are nearing the end of our trip, we go for a quick look at our nation's Capital. Here we see Gren Yount, who is now co-owner of the Bell Telephone Company. She is also goalie on the Olympic Hockey Team.

Just before boarding our plane, we saw Captain Diane Fereday of the United States Marine Corps Band; she had brought the band down to bid us farewell. The band was led by Private Bill Harms.

After contacting all of the members of the Class of 1952, we started back for Basic City, formerly known as Waynesboro.

We know that when the Faxette goes to press everyone will be glad to learn what has become of the Class of 1952.



Pretty baby . . . Sleepytime gal . . . Love letters straight from your heart . . . Somewhere, somehow, some day . . . Undecided . . . On top of Old Smoky . . . It's no secret . . . Teddy bears' picnic . . . Please don't play No. 6 . . . I get ideas . . . I need you, Joe . . . Three times a day and twice on Sunday . . . Music, Maestro, please . . . Three o'clock in the morning

Alma Mater

Pledge we now our loyal friendship,
  Pledge it, one and all,
To the school we love so dearly;
  Hail to Fairfax Hall!

Loudly praise our Alma Mater,
  Best school in the land.
Through the years we're friends forever,
  Loyally we stand.

Memories shall always linger
  'Round our school so dear.
May the friendships formed at Fairfax
  Live throughout the years.

Loudly praise our Alma Mater,
  Best school in the land,
Through the years we're friends forever,
  Loyally we stand.

Last Will and Testament of the

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR CLASS

÷ ÷ ÷

We, the Senior Class of 1952 of Fairfax Hall, Waynesboro, Virginia, seeming unusually confused in thought and action, do hereby abolish formerly established actions and do decree and publish this, our last will and testament.

ARTICLE I

Section 1: To Fairfax Hall, our beloved Alma Mater, we will and bequeath our deepest love and hope that the seniors in the future will have as much fun as we have had and that they will leave with as many fond memories.

Section 2: To Miss Eura Strother, our sponsor, we bequeath our sincere love and a wish that she will have the best of everything in the future.

Section 3: To Mr. Gates, our best friend, we wish to bequeath our deepest appreciation for the help and understanding given us while at Fairfax Hall.

Section 4: To the Senior Class of 1953 we will and bequeath the many privileges we hoped to get but never did.

ARTICLE II

I, Mary Lewis Williamson, being of nonexistent mind, do hereby will and bequeath my frog skeleton, Murgatroyd, to Dora Mae Davis and Mary Baugh in hopes that they will look at him and think of me.

I, Elfrieda Booker, being of little body and less mind, do hereby leave my ability to give permanents to Paula Bernstein, so that she will be able to keep Gail Kerwin looking presentable next year.

I, Sandra Blum, most gladly bequeath my exasperating tresses to Gail Kerwin, my "quaint" driftwood collection and nature walks to Miss Wills, and my U. Va. acquaintances to my roomie, Sue Lewis.

I, Francie Denmead, not sure I'm in my right mind or body, bequeath my nose (?) to anyone who will take it.

I, Bixie Carr, will and bequeath my will power not to suck my finger to Lorinda Roland.

I, Joy Olds, will and bequeath my love for Texas to Sheila and Libby.

I, Bunny Taylor,——leave.

I, Mary Welch, will and bequeath my ability at shooting dice to Mary Ann Poole and Betty Cox, in hopes that they will become professionals like me.

I, Patsy Leach, do hereby will and bequeath to Jane Babini my ability to scare bridge into people by screaming.

I, Nancy Major, hereby will and bequeath my pet skunk, "Geranium," to Miss Gambrill and hope that future chemistry classes will smell better than ours did.

I, Jean Dowdy, do hereby will and bequeath my pair of rusty scissors to my "roomie," Gail Thurmond, to continue our school of unique hair design.

I, Jane Summers, do solemnly will and bequeath my glass telephone to Linda Elmslie and my infallible clock to Janice Carter.

I, Emmy Lou Denmead, will the cozy, air-conditioned closets on the third floor wing to those poor dears on the second floor who are forever getting campused.

I, Pat Debnam, will to my roommate, Heather Covell, my patient uncomplaining nature and hope that she may some day overcome her (to quote Miss Elliott) "pale personality."

I, Pat Penny, leave my job as chief cook and bottle washer for all concerts to Gale Stone, in hopes that she will enjoy it as much as I did and emerge a little less frustrated.

I, Jo Ann Brabham, being of frail mind and body (?), do will and bequeath to Rusty Rice my Southern accent, and to Lee Smith and Jo Coleman my slim figure. I hope that they do better than I did.

I, Gaines Moss, do hereby leave my brilliance in Geometry to Janice Carter.

I, Sally Koch, do will and bequeath to Judy Pell my bed in the infirmary, in hopes that she will be as sweet as I was.

I, Nancy Gonzalez, hereby bequeath to the Biology class my long-abused and dilapidated cost to be dissected with the greatest of care so as to produce the best scientific results.

I, Skipper Korschgen, do will my grammar ability to Lee Smith.

I, Dixie Lane, do will and bequeath my love, Jim Craig, to Connie Northridge, in hopes that she has as much fun at U. Va. as I did.

I, Dottie Burleson, leave my yodeling in the smoker to Mary Laura Leach and hope that she doesn't drive everyone crazy, as I did.

I, Betty Brook, do will and bequeath the "college smoker" to Libby and Sheila with much love.

I, Bunny Brunn, being of sound mind, leave those good-looking Quantico Marines to anyone who wants them, in hopes that they have as much fun as Francie and I did.

I, Selma Brenner, with heavy heart and tearful eyes, do will and bequeath to Gail Thurmond, my roommate, Sally Trotter, for use for one year only, and hope that she does not spoil her too much.

I, Margie Phillips, will and bequeath Johns Hopkins University to anyone who is able to hold a man there better than I did.

I, Zan Van Antwerp, leave my study habits to my roommate, Marlene Wankum, and to Miss Willis I leave my mice.

I, Joan Rademaekers, being of sound mind and body, will and bequeath my naturally curly hair to Beep and Marcie.

I, Susanne Stedman, hereby will to Mary Laura Leach, with more relief than regrets, the hectic train trips from Texas to Virginia, and hope she will learn to make the best of things as I have done.

I, Janet Rattray, do solemnly bequeath all train, bus, and plane schedules to Frances Ricks, along with a giant size bottle of ammonia, in order to make sure that she keeps a clear head during her trips to that dear old Tarheel State.

I, Betty Burton, being of fairly sound mind, do hereby will my favorite Moscow Mule mug to Jane Babini, in hopes that she will uphold it on many occasions and to Judy Alexander I leave my art of griping, as she has learned to do it so well.

I, Sue Shoun, being in a somewhat cramped position, do hereby bequeath my place under the smoker benches, complete with a splinterproof helmet, to all the juniors (especially Sylvia Watson), in the hope that they may escape being caught by Mrs. Lemley and Mrs. Maupin as often as I was. (P.S.—Behind the bulletin board, for those miserable Monday mornings when no one has a cigarette, there is a butt for the first person who gets out of the dining room.)

I, Alice von Seldeneck, solemnly bequeath a much-coveted package of "Tintair" to Heather Covell, so that she may at last have hair as blond as mine.

I, Diane Martin, do hereby will and bequeath my "different" poodle cuts to Marlene Wankum and my seat at the bridge table to Linda Elmslie in hopes that she will keep it warm.

I, Claire Ide, do will and bequeath my monopoly over the detective agency in Room 115 to Nancy Grine and hope that she will uphold the good name.

I, Cris McCoy, do will my inability to say what "I 'ont to say" during Senior Hour to Janice Carter, in hopes that she will be more successful than I have been in getting in a word.

Given under my hand and seal at Waynesboro, Virginia, this 7th day of June, 1952.

SELMA BRENNER,
Class of 1952

High School Senior Prophecy

÷ ÷ ÷

The stars have predicted for you
 What's to become of the class of '52.
There will be many changes as nature arranges
 A date with the future for you.
Sue Stedman has her date book filled
 With society affairs and such,
While on the continent Betty Burton roams
 With her husband, visiting the Dutch.

The typical housewife of the year,
Jo Ann Brabham, with her children, is seen,
Visiting Bunny Taylor, the Congresswoman,
Who has brain and temper quite keen.
We find Skipper Korschgen's fame great
As a doctor she's one of the best.
Dottie Burleson still has her ills
And enjoys them with the usual zest.
Dixie Lane found a way to lose weight;
She's as slim, just as slim as can be.
And Jean Dowdy is buying more clothes
To impress her new love, whoever he be.
Cris McCoy as an architect's wife
Is, as usual, sweet and sedate.
But Claire Ide has a problem we hear;
There's so little to investigate.
At the ballet is Director Alice von Seldeneck;
She's the best in her profession, they say.
Elfrieda Booker's the best lady lawyer;
We'll visit her in court one day.
Sue Shoun's teaching Spanish, we hear,
With Mary Lewis Williamson right by her side.
Joan Rademaekers has a very fine job;
She's the head Pennsylvania guide.
Sandy Blum in the theater is tops,
Her name is a spell in disguise.
Bixie Carr is a beach-comber's wife,
With the city folk she does not fraternize.
Betty Brook, still Olympic champ,
Spends her winters in the sunshine so warm,
While Jane Summers enjoys all the gifts
Her admirers do give when they swarm.
At Harvard the professor's wife,
Diane Martin, sits calm and serene,
While Janet Rattray recalls some old tales;
In her eye is that laughing gleam.
Pat Penny is at the Hall teaching;
Her voice is as good as gold.
Nancy Major is out on the farm
And looks younger than ever, I'm told.
Bunny Brunn and Joy Olds are still hoping
To find the right shades for their hair,
While Gaines Moss is still quietly waiting
For Georgie who forgot her somewhere.
Zan Van Antwerp is living in Turkey,
With Abdullah, the scout for the king.
Mary Welch still stands in her parlor,
Trying to learn how to sing.
Nancy Gonzalez has taken up smoking;
From Pat Debnam she begs for a drag,
And the Denmead twins smile at their admirers
And ask, "Can you all really shag?"
Selma Brenner's in search of a husband;
A grocer's son is surely her fate.
Patsy Leach has fifty grandchildren;
Over everything she loves to debate.
Margie Phillips is happily married;
Her sons are Johns Hopkins bound.
And last but not least is Sally Koch
Whose lost weight can never be found.

To Fairfax Hall all success and happiness we owe.
Without your help, our future would never, never grow.

Laurel Chain Song

Winding slowly o'er the campus
  As we bear our laurel chain
O'er the dear old Fairfax campus
  As we pledge our love again.

Refrain
Dear old Fairfax, dear old Fairfax,
  How our hearts beat high with pride!
Ever shall we stand together,
  Fairfax daughters side by side.

2.
'Tis a symbol of our faith
  This laurel chain we bear,
And the trust we have in Fairfax—
  Oh, our hearts will e'er be here!

3.
As the day draws nigh for parting
  And we list to another call,
In our hearts will live the echo,
  Alma Mater, Fairfax Hall.

4.
We, the Senior Class of Fairfax,
  Pass to you this chain of green
As a token of our love
  And the happy days we've seen.

5.
We accept with joyful hearts
  The challenge that you give,
And promise we will keep it;
  In our hearts 'twill ever live.

PHI THETA KAPPA

The national honorary scholastic society of Fairfax Hall Junior College is Phi Theta Kappa. Scholarship, leadership, and service are emphasized by this society, and wisdom, aspiration, and purity are its basic foundations. The society is similar to Phi Beta Kappa in a four-year college.
